Steeplecom has been helping United Methodist Churches lease their properties to the wireless industry as cell sites for 13+ years. Steeplecom helps the local church navigate the wireless industry and contractual obligations so the church can obtain the highest possible dollars for the use of their building as cell sites. They are familiar with all the issues before, during and after a site is deployed. They are familiar with the Book of Discipline of the UMC concerning leasing property to a wireless carrier. <http://www.steeplecom.com/>

UMCGPO.org is an online discount and cost-savings vendor management platform designed for United Methodist churches and affiliated organizations. Churches use this exclusive group purchasing organization and are immediately able to reduce costs on everyday supplies and services by using the preferred vendors. This will save your organization time and dramatically increase funds for ministry so that every United Methodist church can refocus these savings on disciple making and transforming their community. As more churches participate, the pricing gets lower for all participants. <http://umcgpo.org/>

UMCUA is an association founded in October of 2002 by United Methodist Credit Unions throughout the United States. The fields of membership include agencies, clergy, church members, colleges, health care employees and/or staff of the United Methodist Church. Each of our United Methodist Credit Unions have similar fields of membership, share common goals, needs, and issues. Credit Unions that work together in a collaborative effort to share ideas and suggestions regarding marketing, policies, regulations, etc. Some UMCUA Credit Unions may be state chartered, federally chartered and/or community chartered. UMCUA is your financial partner working to serve the ministry of the United Methodist Church. <https://www.umcua.org/>

Church facilities can be built or expanded using Vanguard Modular Building Systems' approach. In support of a church's ministry, Vanguard offers a variety of building construction and affordable financing options. A church can lease, purchase, or finance a modular building, classroom or assembly area from their used inventory to save both money and time. Vanguard typically hires tradespersons from the local community to provide an economic benefit within the community. Churches can contact one of their representatives to learn more about how their new or used modular buildings, and custom building construction solutions, can provide a growing ministry with the space needed on a timely and affordable basis.
